

Marquette Golf Mission Statement

Every Marquette golfer should understand that they are a student- athlete. Student will always come first because that will be the ultimate factor in determining where they end up as a productive citizen. Golfers may avoid crucial educational instruction time but it is their responsibility to communicate with their teachers in these instances. It is also the student-athlete's responsibility to let the coach know if they are struggling to keep up with their school work while competing in an extracurricular event, such as golf.

Marquette Golfer should understand that honesty, integrity, and discipline separate this game from others. The goal should be to try to win every competition, while at the same time, assist an opponent in the search for that "potential lost ball". All golfers should understand and know how to apply the rules of golf. Finally, opponents will notice that we will always compete with class. We will do that by holding ourselves to the highest standard in how we conduct ourselves on the golf course and how we represent Marquette High School in our daily lives.

As a final mission thought, lessons learned through the great game of golf are life lessons that will benefit student- athletes way beyond the halls of Marquette. These include treating people with respect, acknowledging the work and effort of others, building team camaraderie, and being supportive and encouraging to others.
